- ◆ Think about post processing as part of the photographic process. Putting the final touches on it before you release it to the world.
- ◆ You don't take a photography, you make it ~Ansel Adams
- ◆ Post processing shouldn't be viewed as a 'crutch' or 'cheating'.
- ◆ Find a unique post processing workflow that works for you and matches your style.
- ◆ Continue to analyse your approach on each image and adjust as needed.
- ◆ Don't slap on a preset and go without analysing it's output.
- ◆ Find out the definition of each editing tool to assist you with truly understanding what it does to an image.
- ◆ We all started in the same place.
- ◆ Every human has thoughts of not being good enough, creatives are especially prone.
- ◆ We compare ourselves to those who we percieve as more 'successful' or 'better' than us.
- ◆ Acknowledging and understanding that we compare ourselves to those that are head of us will help us to detach from the story we aren't good enough.
- ◆ Comaprison is the source of all unhappiness.
- ◆ Always be true to yourself and your journey as it's unique to us.
